SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. Antonio Lavino, born at Fossate (Vercelli) on 25 March 1901, former industrialist, resides in Rome since 1949 at 26 Via Incirino, and is married to Maria Rada, born at Muzzano on 24 September 1903. His son, Ermanno, was born at Fossate on 1 August 1930.
2. Lavino is the financial supporter of Farmedical Company, recently created by Mario Brachetti<sup>1</sup> and Ermanno Lavino. Its offices are located at 16 Viale Gorizia, Rome. Farmedical engages in import-export of chemical, sanitary and pharmaceutical apparatuses. The company is not registered at either the Rome Chamber of Commerce or the Rome Tribunal, as is required by Italian law.
3. Farmedical, through Brachetti, was recently reported to have available a large quantity of arms of various types, "of new and old construction", which could be supplied without regard to normal procedure. Transfer of the materiel could be made to any place in Italy at the behest of a purchaser.
4. Brachetti reportedly has been dealing in arms for some time and has conducted some operations for Rodi Ragailla.<sup>2</sup> At present he is allegedly in contact with the Israeli Legation, furnishing munitions purchased from Bombrini-Parodi-Delfino. Brachetti has a contract with the latter company for 10 million 9 millimeter shells. He states that he represents the Giandeco arms factory and is in a position to obtain arms with or without prescribed authorization from military and private organizations, among which figures the firm he represents.
